NEWS RELEASE

February 5, 2008

Two KMKSC Attorneys Admitted to the Lac du Flambeau Tribal Court Bar

Kohner, Mann & Kailas, S.C. (KMKSC) shareholder Samuel C. Wisotzkey and attorney Marie M. Flannery were today admitted to the bar of the Lac du Flambeau Band of Lake Superior Chippewa Indians, adding a new facet to KMKSC's representation of lending institutions.

The Lac du Flambeau Band has, since the early 1990s, actively encouraged tribal members to acquire ownership interests in property on tribal trust lands through renewable 25 year leases. Since trust land can not be foreclosed upon due to its unique legal status, HUD programs have been used to provide lenders with alternative collateral. The first such loans were made over 15 years ago. With the growing number of such loans and their increasing maturity new issues of law are arising. The Lac du Flambeau Tribal Court has jurisdiction over how these and future questions should be resolved.

Kohner, Mann & Kailas is committed to providing support to all our clients wherever the need arises. We are therefore delighted to be able to announce this addition to the scope of representation that we provide to our lender clients.
